

Freight Market Update- Immediate Changes You Can Expect

KDM's goal is to keep you informed on all aspects of our market. As we enter peak season, trucking rates are up 33% year over year and trending higher. Businesses reopening and replenishing inventories appears to be the driving force for this surge. This increased flow has caused a shortage in available trucks and drivers. This is beginning to effect both freight rates and availability of equipment as trucks are in higher demand.

We have been reviewing past and present freight quotes to help avoid unexpected expenses or delays at the time of shipping. Carriers are now analyzing each piece of freight in terms of how it is priced and how it fits within their internal network. The same delivery made or quoted a month ago may now have increased in cost. We appreciate your understanding while working through these challenging times. Please call us with any questions or concerns. We will make every effort to exceed your expectations.

Sincerely,
Your Partners at KDM Products
